CARVER HIGH SCHOOL

Here we are again with the latest Carver events.

An original play written by Williianne Johnson, a member of the Senior Class, was presented in assembly last week. The play was entitled, "Sacrifice." Students who played parts were: Nannie Wheeler, Bessie Williams, Curtis Marshall, James Mickle,- all from the Senior Class.

Charles Jeffries is due to leave Sunday for Virginia State College to attend a Trustee Board meeting of the New Farmers of America. We wish him success.

Edna Williams is up from the "fly" with a fine start in the "Miss Carver" contest. The Juniors are sure she is going to win.

The N. F. A. will have a called meeting on Monday, March 20. The Carver Chapter is sponsoring a popularity contest for the benefit of the N. F. A. camp fund. It will close Tuesday, April 18, 1950. The captains will be among the boy's parents. The prizes will be made in the shop by the boys. The first prize will be a lawn settee which will consist of one large chair and two small chairs. The second prize is a porch swing. Third prize is a lawn seat.

The last page "Ad" and snapshots of activities were sent to the Yearbook company Wednesday afternoon. We are very proud of the fine job Mr. James has done in taking them.

The Seniors say "Hurrah" for a job that required much time. We wait now for our finished yearbook.

The N. F. A. girls are preparing for the Dunbar High Home Economics girls from Lynchburg, Wednesday, March 15. They will attend a regular meeting here at Carver. Miss Thomson, Supervisor, plans to be in attendance also.

Ballots were cast Friday in assembly for the Student Court. Every one is anxious to hear the Judge, Attorneys, Justices, and Jury that won the election. They will be set up as our national Justice Department, and will be impowered to pass sentence on disciplinary cases, or any other matter where there services may be needed.

In Dramatics Class, the Seniors are busy producing their original one-act plays. Tell us some of them are very good. Some modern Shakespeare's among us?

Students are at ease again after six-week exams. Some few suffered defeat, while others were victorious.—As usual.

The Red Cross Drive is on. Each class has been asked to contribute a liberal amount.

We wonder what is happening on the school issue. If something actual doesn't happen soon, what about September? We aren't visualizing ourselves within these same walls another school term. We picture the auditorium, classrooms, cafeteria, gym, and business department which are needed to meet our needs.

We close with this thought for the week: "You cannot teach a man anything; you can only help him to find it within himself."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Handy and Easy Are Both Wrong

Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts got in quite an argument the other day over at Fred's Garage talking about the best spot to fish up at Green Lake.

"Opposite the old sawmill is the best spot," says Handy. But Easy "pooh-pooh's" him. "I've seen the biggest fish caught off Cedar Point," says Easy. "I've been catching them there for years."

Then Fred goes into his office and brings out the biggest mounted rainbow trout you ever saw. "Bet that was caught at the sawmill," comments Handy. "Cedar Point," says Easy. "Well," says Fred, "you're both wrong. I caught this baby right out in the middle!"

From where I sit, there are always two (or more) sides to every story. Let's live and let live in the true American tradition of toleration. Your opinion is worth a lot, but so is the other fellow's—whether it's on politics, the best fishing spots, or whether he likes a temperate glass of beer and you like buttermilk.

SEED TREATING CUTS LOSSES

Treat spring oat seed with new improved ceresan or ceresan M at least 24 hours before planting.

That's the advice of S. B. Fenne, plant disease specialist at V. P. I., who points out that seed treatment helps control the disease, Helminthosporium blight, and also controls loose and covered smuts, and aids in the control of foot rots.

Helminthosporium blight has swept the oat growing states the past few seasons, and has been responsible for large reductions in yield.

Feene says the seed may be treated several weeks before planting, if it is stored in a dry place out of reach of animals.

The Living Faith

Lesson for March 19, 1950

Dr. Foreman

NY a funeral sermon has peen preached over the Chris- hurch, but somehow the corpse stays put. What keeps it go- All sorts of explanations have given by unsympathetic out- . The church (we are told) is pper-class hobby, or a lower- opiate; it is ial club, it is urial society; nders to pride, is a perverse of self-tor- it is kept by a well- organization. h explanations t explain. The is at heart simple: The Church is kept by faith. What is Christian the faith of the church? A of the Scripture for this or a broader search through New Testament from end to will convince any impartial er of the falsehood of some of notions about what Christian is.

me have claimed that it is ing but faith in the Fatherhood od and the brotherhood of man. the reader try to find this in New Testament if he can. you had said this to an early stian, he would have replied this line: That is just the blem—how can we become sons God? How can men achieve herhood? Others tell us that is belief in a series of doc- es.

Let the reader search the ew Testament and see if he n find there anything about ith in a creed. Sometimes is notion takes another form that faith originally was a elief that Jesus' beliefs were ue; in other words, that ith is accepting the "religion Jesus."

ow the church from the begin- g believed that Jesus' thoughts e true thoughts; but faith was er a simple second-hand ac- tance of any one's creed, not n that of Jesus. The faith we d in the New Testament is none these things. Still less is it faith the saints, in Mary, or in an fallible" church.

ith: Not About, But In . . .

HE FAITH that broke out in glorious light in those early ys of the church, and has con- ued shining down through the nturies, was not belief about any- ng or anybody, it was belief IN me One; and that Some One was sus Christ.

There is a simply astonishing riety of ways in which he is oken of in the New Testament. e is Son of Man, he is teacher d healer, he is the first-born of any brothers; he is Priest and crifice, he is the Propitiation, the econciler of men to God; he is aster and Lord, he is the Word— at is, what God has to say to us; e is the Son of God, he sits on the rone of the universe, he will dge every man; he is the pattern r every man's character.

To put it quite bluntly, the church elieved (and still believes) in a upernatural Christ and not only a human Jesus. They believed him as a teacher, as the Teacher ndeed; but not merely as one whose teachings had been interrupted by an untimely death. They id not "play down" his death, on he contrary they played it up.

Christ crucified for us is always strongly in their minds. But they were far from leaving him as it were on a crucifix.

Any form of Christianity that thinks of Jesus chiefly as a Christmas baby; or a starry-eyed idealist; or as a pathetic figure hanging on a crucifix is a perversion of New Testament ways of thought. Everywhere in the center is the Christ who "was dead and is alive forevermore."

There Is No Other

A YOUNG MOSLEM who became a Christian and is very happy about it, was asked what it was that changed him, for Moslems are hard to change. It was not an argument, he said, it was the lives of some missionaries in Iran whom he knew.

He wanted what they had—it was as simple as that. And he went on to say this: "Christianity doesn't have much in theology that Mohammedanism doesn't have. There is just one thing Christianity has that we didn't have, nor anything like it; Jesus Christ."

That is what—that is who wins men today, and that was the secret of the early church, and that is the secret today of the living church everywhere: Christ alive by faith in the lives of those who love him.

FARM BUILDING PLANS AVAILABLE

More than 600 plans for farm buildings and equipment are available free of charge to Virginia farm families from the Agricultural Extension Service at V. P. I.

Paul Stoneburner, assistant agricultural engineer, says the plans have been developed to meet the farmer's needs, and that new plans are being added continually.

Booklets with pictures and descriptions of many of the plans can be seen at your county Extension Service offices.

BEE TROUBLES FORESEEN BECAUSE OF MILD WINTER

Virginia's bees are likely to be in trouble, because of the mild winter this year, warns J. M. Amos, insect and disease specialist at V. P. I.

He explains that normally bees will pass the winter in better condition if temperatures are cool instead of unusually warm. In warm weather, the colonies begin to raise young bees abnormally early, and will consume abnormally large amounts of honey and pollen. It does not take long to exhaust all the reserve food in the colony—and the bees starve.

The danger months are March and April, so Amos advises beekeepers to examine the colonies early to determine if they are in need of feeding. Anytime there are less than 15 pounds of honey in the hive, the colony should be fed.

The best artificial food for bees is a syrup made of one or two parts of granulated sugar to one part of water. Feed inside the colony, rather than on the outside in the apiary, because the weak colonies will be more likely to get their share.

A bulletin on feeding bees may be obtained from the county agent's office.

SHORT COURSE PLANNED BY DAIRY DEPARTMENT

A short course for artificial breeding technicians will be sponsored by the dairy department at V. P. I., March 20—29, and applications now are being accepted in the order received.

The course will include demontrations and lectures on techniques, dairy cattle breeding, organization of associations and general field conditions.
